World Book Week

The Reading Ambassadors all worked very hard to create a successful World Book Week! There were lots of exciting, engaging and fun reading activities which were held within this week.

Reading Club

Every morning, children were invited into school to do some extra reading. It turned out to be very popular! It was lovely to see children from every class being enthusiastic about reading and their books.

Book Swap Shop

After school, the Reading Ambassadors held a book swap shop where books were donated ready to be swapped with another. Again, this proved to be very popular and was fantastic to see children showing a passion for reading.

Sponsored Read

The Reading Ambassadors would like to thank everyone who was contributed to the sponsored read. As a school, we raised £630! With the funds raised, our dedicated Reading Ambassadors, worked hard choosing new, exciting books for the library.

Potato Competition

Wow! The Reading Ambassadors were blown away by the very creative and talented entries for the potato competition. It was an incredibly difficult decision to pick winners across the school!

Winners

Evelyn - Reception
Betsy - Y1

Marnie - Y3

Book Donation Point

This week, the Reading Ambassadors have met to discuss future projects and have created some fantastic reading challenges for the Summer Term.

Also, we are proud to announce that the book donation point will resume next week.

The Reading Ambassadors have worked extremely hard to create a fair rota for children to come and browse at the selection of engaging and exciting books.

'The book donation point is a great idea because children can share their unwanted books for other children to enjoy.' – Betsy Y3

'The reading ambassadors are very excited to sort through the books, so other children in the school can enjoy them. It is a brilliant idea!' – Leo Y4

Author Visit

Last half term, we had a very exciting visit from Ian Bland. The children were engaged throughout the day and created some hilarious, creative poems. These were then performed in a special assembly at the end of the day.

Reading Challenges

Exciting news: we will be holding a 'book bingo' challenge to find out which year group can read the most books. Each child will receive a bingo form and will be asked by their class Reading Ambassadors to complete as many reading tasks as possible.

The competition will begin on Monday May 15th 2023 and forms must be returned by June 6th 2023. This exciting competition aims to create a passion and joy for reading whilst also improving our reading skills. Any type of book can count towards an entry e.g. fiction and non-fiction and also any genre e.g. adventure story or science fiction.

The class with the most books read by the competition end date will win a prize. In addition, the child who has read the most books in each class will also win a prize.
